

To: To Whom It May Concern

From: University Ombudsperson

Re: Role of the Ombudsperson

The Ombudsperson Office is available to assist those persons or organizations involved in student code of conduct cases by acting as an information source. It does not participate in student code of conduct proceedings, nor is it charged with advocating or defending any party to such proceedings.

Information revealed to the Ombudsperson Office will be held in confidence, if asked to do so, in compliance with university policies and procedures and the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA).

You may schedule an appointment by calling 313-577-3487, or by sending an email to ombudsoffice@wayne.edu. All Ombuds correspondence is being forwarded to the Dean of Students Office at this time.